About adventure education:

Adventure education uses the world of experience as a classroom, where participants try themselves in adventure activities and challenge, through which they can discover and develop the resources hidden within, so they can learn to better tackle certain problems, such as the question of inclusion and exclusion. Still, the experience of these programs offers a great deal more than just fun. They offer an opportunity for participants to get to know themselves, each other, learn from the success or failure of certain behaviors, and have a chance to try new behavior in an emotionally safe environment. Adventure education challenges participants, and meeting these challenges develops new tools for coping with problems, self-confidence and endurance. Team adventure activities help build trusting communities, develops communal decision-making skills, leadership skills and tolerance.

About the organizer - Academy of Experience (Hungary):

Academy of Experience public benefit association was founded at the end of 2005 by 12 volunteers who would like to dedicate their future to the non formal education and development of young and adult people. The objective of the organization is to develop the public and personal skills and attitudes of participants by using so called "outdoor activities", and applying the methodology of experiential education (learning by doing - planning - evaluation). Our organization focuses on increasing the feeling of personal and social responsibilities, sustainable environmental education, helping the development of life-leading skills. Our organization gives the possibility to use the world of experiences as classroom, to discover and develop your hidden resources through real adventures and challenges.
